

Nordplan and Univeyor Logistics Systems to merge and headquarter in Arden; Vipperød to harbour strengthened Archive Business

Effective on 1 July 2009, Nordplan and Univeyor Logistics Systems will merge, with headquarters located in Arden, and with Vipperød remaining the base of activities related to mobile storage units. The purpose of this merger is to establish a broad-spectrum supplier of customized solutions for storing and internal logistics solutions.

Since Odin Equity Partners' acquisition of Nordplan in 2006, the company has improved its already strong market position on the primary markets of mobile storing units for both public and private customers. Apart from supplying its own products to industrial customers, Nordplan has a longstanding cooperation with Univeyor Logistics Systems on industrial solutions. Univeyor Logistics Systems is a supplier of systems and solutions for the optimization of internal logistics - and has over the past year undergone substantial changes, providing a secure platform for growth based on unique products, customer focus and distinct technical expertise.

The joint Nordplan and Univeyor Logistics Systems will offer its customers a wider range of products, with Nordplan's industrial activities entering into an innovative line of products, combined with a solid financial platform, enabling the company to take up competition with European market actors.

At the time of the merger, Per V. Frederiksen will at his own request resign from his position as Managing Director of Nordplan, and Niels Otto Andersen, Managing Director of Univeyor Logistics Systems, will assume the top management of the merged company. Nordplan's mobile storing activities will be an independent business unit, headed by Morten Andersen, who is presently manager of Nordplan's subsidiary company in the UK and who has more than 25 years' experience in this area of business.
